Your path to wellness

Your care doesn't end when you are discharged from hospital. Your recovery continues once you have returned home. Vancouver Coastal Health (VCH) Richmond Community Health Nurses and clinical staff will continue to support you at our Community Care Clinic.

Care that matches your level of need

We offer home visits to those clients who are truly bed-bound or too frail or compromised to leave their homes safely. For everyone else who is capable of getting out-and-about, a visit to our Community Care Clinic is a better use of VCH Richmond's clinical resources.

Our Community Care Clinic is similar to your doctor's office, and your continued care can be arranged with a single phone call. Your nurse or health care worker will help arrange your first visit.

It's about recovery and so much more

By asking clients to come to a clinic for their care, we are also encouraging mobility, social interaction and increased independence; all three factors are important to leading a longer life, and a better quality one.
